Introduction

Presenting you with our Catalogue for Spring Season, 1914, we desire to direct your attention to a few facts in connection therewith. We have excelled all past efforts in securing a stock complete in every department. The goods have been purchased with great care and judgment: bought in the best markets and will be sold at close prices. We are giving our customers the advantage to be derived from successful and experienced buying.

The prices quoted herein are subject to the fluctuation of the markets and are not binding upon us at any time.

Quality and value are the chief constituent elements making our stock what it is. With sense to perceive and capital to dictate, our position in the markets of the world is unique and hence our progress as a Wholesale House in the Dominion of Canada. We thank you most heartily for your past support and cordially ask you for a continuation of the same. We ask you kindly to accept this Catalogue, and if anyone should receive it who has not already done business with us, we feel assured that if they peruse it, and compare values, we will at least, get a Trial Order.

With best wishes for a successful business during the year Nineteen Hundred and Fourteen, we are,

Yours very truly,

John Macdonald & Co., Limited
